LOCAL AND STATE ITEMS.

We endeavor to make THE CALEDONIAN valuable to our readers by giving them the latest news from all sources, and by presenting them with a paper of interest and value to all.

Brief Locals.

—Geo. W. May, Esq., cashier of the Bradford Bank, has received the appointment of cashier of the First National Bank of St. Johnsbury.

—A neighbor suggests that our village needs do not correspond with our cemetery. That fact must have been noticed by others.

—We learn that Rev. Wm. Sewell of Lunenburg, has received an invitation to become pastor of the new congregational church at St. Albans.

—In answer to some enquiries we will state that clergymen within the State are charged half price, or $1.00 a year for THE CALEDONIAN.

—Van Amburgh's menagerie exhibited in the place on Thursday last week to an immense crowd of people—some estimating the number as high as four or five thousand.

—Some graceless scamp went to jail on Monday night and to the State Prison on Tuesday morning. He is now in the same place as the scamp who was there last week.

—Dr. Ballard has returned from Newbern. He understands that both he and Col. Grout secured about 30 recruits.

—Copper has been discovered in several places in Essex county. A vein has been found in Concord that promises rich results.

—Carlos Pierce's big Sanitary Fair, on Monday on route for the State fair, an effort is being made to get him to our county.

—Rev. James P. Stone was in town a day or two the present week, preaching in his old church at the Centre in the afternoon and speaking to the North Church Sabbath school on the evening of Sunday.

—The State Fair is being held at W. R. Junction the present week. Although the weather is not very propitious it is still not very bad, and the exhibition is said to be good.

—The Grafton county fair will be held at Littleton next week, the 21st and 22d. Arrangements have been made for an extensive exhibition.

—Our own county fair comes off week after next, Sept. 27, 28, and 29. The advertisement of the program appears in our columns this week.

—The stock raisers and the farmers are already awake, and if the mechanics and the ladies do their duty we shall have a good fair.

—The Comm. River Valley Fair will be held at Bradford Oct. 4-6. This fair takes in both sides of the Connecticut river and should be a good exhibition, and doubtless will be.

—A Draft Next Monday. We have received the following circular which explains itself:

WINDSOR, Sept. 13, 1864.
By order of Provost Marshal General, George B. Frisbie, Jr., the draft will commence in this District on Monday, the 19th inst., beginning as far as practicable, with towns most deficient. The quota of every town must be filled, and the draft will continue until the men are furnished.

GILMAN HENRY,
Provost Marshal 24 Dist. Vt.

Well Done.
Mr. A. C. Ethridge of Burke, has sold from six sheep this season, sixty-six dollars' worth of wool and lambs. The six sheep raised eleven lambs which were sold for fifty dollars, and the wool for sixteen dollars, making eleven dollars per head for the sheep and the sheep left to the bargain. Who'll beat it?

Justice Elected Sept. 6, 1864.
Grafton—Daniel Roberts, I. N. Hall, Geo. Welch, Martin Weld, J. D. Darling.

Sheffield—Sewall Bradley, Hiram Jenness, Joseph Ingalls, E. F. Root, L. D. Varney.

Peabody—Lafayette Stroudberg, E. W. Clarke, T. G. Farro, Lyman Watts, John Varnum, Jr., Alonzo Robbins, James Davis.

Lunenburg—J. W. Hartshorn, Wm. Chandler, Sylvanus Lane, James Morse, Levi Silsby, John Brooks, J. G. Bowker.

Danville—Andrew McMillan, Seneca Ladd, J. S. H. Weeks, Judkins Randall, A. L. Strowbridge, Oliver Morse, Sam'l B. Parker, D. O. Gookin, S. P. Choate, W. J. Stanton.

Hon. Hugh Henry was not defeated by the bolt in Windsor County, notwithstanding the violent efforts to accomplish that result.

Col. Munson, regular candidate for sheriff in Chittenden county, was elected in spite of Sheriff Flannagan's strenuous efforts to defeat him.

NINTH REGIMENT.—The 9th regiment has been ordered to join the 13th army corps, now in the vicinity of Fort Darling.

Rev. A. G. Pease is elected as representative from Norwich, Rev. O. Wheeler from Windsor, Rev. W. Sewell from Lunenburg, Rev. M. C. Henderson from Lyndon and Rev. L. H. Tabor from Concord to the Senate.

The Hon. Justin S. Morrill has arranged with Charles Parmenter, Esq., of Windsor, to represent him in the army, and Mr. P. has accordingly been enlisted as a recruit for the town of Stratford.

BEAR HUNT.—The people of Randolph and Brainerd turned out on Thursday last in search of a bear, whose operations near West Randolph had been discovered. A ring was formed, and after an exciting chase of eight hours, the bear was driven within about one mile of West Randolph village, and was shot by Mr. Charles Hubbard. Other bears are supposed to be in the same vicinity.

shall teach in the high school its restricted list of studies, and also superintend all the other schools of the district, looking to their management, directing their relations to each other and influencing their progress towards the one which is under his special charge and is favored with the use of the Academy building and accommodations.

The advantage of consolidation in bringing under one organization a large number of scholars is favorable to the other element of our school system referred to—graduation. This graduation has heretofore been attempted by the district, and for some years has in a measure succeeded. But as the system was not perfected nor fully provided for, there has been a felt defect all the while, though schools of three grades have been efficiently sustained and taught with satisfactory results and faithfulness.

The schools were unavoidably crowded with too great a variety of studies, and broken into too small and numerous classes. And then the conducting the high school and the academy side by side, and their relative and mutual influence were more and more manifestly working the problem of their co-existence and usefulness out to the present result.

The district has now all the scholars and the whole range of studies from the alphabet to thorough business fitness or qualification for admission to college, and has opportunity and obligation to provide accordingly. This provision has been earnestly attempted, and judiciously prosecuted without hesitation of effort or stint of reasonable expenditure.

The schools have opened and the grading is commenced both with our own scholars, and with those who are admitted from abroad upon payment of tuition, which will be required with reference to the grade of the school for which they are fitted.

The schools now commencing for the term are the high school in the academy with the principal and an assistant. Two grammar schools in the upper story of the Central House—the highest semi-grade of which has a male teacher, and the other a female. On the lower floor of the same house are one intermediate and two primary schools. Two primary schools in the Maple St. house. One primary each in the houses in Paddock Village and Fairbanks Village.

In all ten schools offer their facilities and present peculiar attractions for every grade of desirable education.

The State Fair is being held at W. R. Junction the present week. Although the weather is not very propitious it is still not very bad, and the exhibition is said to be good.

The Grafton county fair will be held at Littleton next week, the 21st and 22d. Arrangements have been made for an extensive exhibition.

GOT IN JAIL.—On Saturday evening, the 26th ult., a man named David Kimball, from Lunenburg, Vt., was arrested at Lennoxville, for attempting to procure recruits for the Federal army. On Monday an examination was had before E. Clark, Esq., J. P. In the evidence it was shown that Kimball had paid in advance for four persons $50 each, in greenbacks—to another $40, and $20 more to hire a team to take them across the line. He was committed for trial at the next term of the Queen's Bench. Had he succeeded, he would have realized a nice sum by the operation, but much to his surprise the speculation has not proved so very profitable.

Sherbrooke Freeman.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mead of Cornwall, and the wife of Dr. M. L. Mead of Albany, N. Y., were all thrown from a carriage in Cornwall on Saturday last. Mrs. M. L. Mead was taken up insensible and so remained until her death which occurred on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mead were somewhat, though not seriously, injured. Dr. and Mr. H. J. Mead are brothers of the editor of the Middlebury Register, and the Doctor's wife was on a visit to her friends in Cornwall and Middlebury at the time of the fatal occurrence.

Major C. W. Dwinell, of the 6th Vt. regiment, died in Baltimore, Md., Aug. 24, from wounds received in an engagement with the enemy near Charleston on the 21st of that month.
